Introduction

Bibliography on archive buildings and equipment

This bibliography was compiled largely by Arnold den Teuling, with substantial contributions by French, Hispanic and Chinese colleagues. The work formed one of the tasks set for itself by the ICA-CBQ during the period 1996-2000. It is hoped to add to it from time to time and in particular we have the prospect of additions from Slavic and Hispanic colleagues. It has been decided that as far as possible the bibliography will stick to the ICA main languages of English and French, though clearly the titles of articles are in some cases in the other four ICA languages. Articles in other languages than the six ICA languages may be included, if they are provided with a summary in English or French. The relevant items in the bibliography contain links to the case studies in other pages of this website. You are advised to consult also the websites on preservation of CoOI: <http://palimpsest.stanford.edu/>, and of EPIC: <http://www.knaw.nl/ecpa/> . The first one has an American character and the second one has a European character.

Bibliographie sur les bâtiments et les équipements d'archives

Cette bibliographie a été composée en grande partie par Arnold den Teuling, avec des contributions importantes des collègues français et chinois, et d'un collègue espagnol. Ce travail était l'une des tâches que le CIA-CBQ s'était assignées pour la période 1996-2000. Le comité espère pouvoir publier des suppléments de temps à autre. Nous pensons en particulier à des suppléments de collègues chinois et slaves et d'autres collègues espagnols. On a décidé que la bibliographie se limiterait, si possible, aux deux langues principales du CIA (l'anglais et le français), mais il arrive évidemment qu'un titre soit dans l'une des quatre autres langues du CIA. Les articles dans une langue autre que les six langues du CIA seront inclus, s'ils sont pourvus d'un résumé dans une des langues principales, français ou anglais.

Le cas échéant, les notices de la bibliographie renvoient aux études de cas particuliers figurant sur d'autres pages de ce site Internet. Nous vous conseillons de consulter aussi les sites concernant la préservation, c.-à-dire, de CoOI: <http://palimpsest.stanford.edu/>, et de EPIC: <http://www.knaw.nl/ecpa/>. Le première montre une prédominance américaine et le second a un caractère européen.

Instructions for use / Mode d'emploi

Directions for using the classification scheme for the bibliography. And some remarks on the content of the bibliography.

The first two numerals are the classification number (code) you will find also in the bibliography. The bibliography has two numerals more, which have no significance, except to make the computer to put the data into some logic order, usually a chronological one.

As usual with classification schemes the subjects have been put into an order going from general to particular (specific). The references have been put as low as possible in the scheme. So you will find a standard on fire protection under 4.2, and not under 1.1. Criteria for fire prevention in existing (converted) buildings you will find under 4.2, and not under 1.5. There is one exception, the tropical issues have been assembled under code 1.4.

Under 1.9, Particular buildings, have been listed references to articles which survey all or at least two aspects of a particular building. If only one aspect of a particular building has been dealt with, it was to be placed under that aspect. So Security of the PRO will be found under 4.1, and not under 1.9.

Not all articles in Atlanti are useful in themselves. They deal however with our subjects thematically, and when put together they have value. I did not enlist them all, but I tried to be a little selective.

The bibliography does not contain references to books and articles dating before 1983, the handbook of M. Duchein being a milestone in building archives.

Mode d'emploi du plan de classement de la bibliographie. Avec quelques notes sur le contenu de la bibliographie.

Les deux premiers chiffres forment le code de classement, qui apparaît aussi dans la bibliographie. Dans celle-ci, les deux chiffres suivants sont inutiles à la consultation. Ils permettent de respecter un ordre logique, le plus souvent chronologique, dans le classement informatique des données.

Comme il est d'usage dans les plans de classement, les notices se suivent en allant du général au particulier; elles sont placées le plus bas possible dans le classement. Par exemple, une norme sur la protection et la lutte contre l'incendie est placée sous 4.2, et non sous 1.1. Des prescriptions pour la prévention de l'incendie dans des bâtiments existants convertis figurent sous 4.2, et non sous 1.5. Il y a une seule exception: les problèmes des pays tropicaux sont rassemblés sous 1.4.

Sous 1.9 Bâtiments particuliers sont rassemblées les entrées qui concernent au moins deux aspects d'un bâtiment particulier. Quand un seul aspect d'un bâtiment est traité, l'entrée figure sous le code de cet aspect. Ainsi la sécurité du PRO se trouve sous 4.1, et non sous 1.9.

Les articles de Atlanti ne sont pas tous importants par eux-mêmes. Mais ils traitent les sujets par thème, et pris dans l'ensemble ils acquièrent de la valeur. Tous n'ont pas été mentionnés: j'ai essayé de faire un choix. Je remercie mon collègue belge Daniel De Stobbeleur pour la correction entière de ma traduction française du texte anglais.

La bibliographie ne contient pas de travaux antérieurs à 1983, l'année de la publication du chef-d'oeuvre de M. Duchein.
